Welcome to Vincennes University

Your Institution for Distance Learning
(<http://www.vinu.edu/distance>)

Founded in 1801, at a time when higher education was generally reserved for a privileged few, Vincennes University's doors were open to anyone who wanted to learn.

That original mission has survived over 200 years, and today VU remains an open-admission institution. The Distance Education and Military Education programs at Vincennes University carry the mission to students seeking to continue their education, but unable to spend extended periods of time on a college campus. Vincennes University has developed programs that bridge the desire and means for higher education by extending the walls of the college campus.

New technology solutions are vastly changing and improving the way we teach and learn. The Vincennes University Distance Education and Military Education programs are continually in the process of developing additional opportunities using new and creative approaches to teaching and learning. We trust your learning experience with us will be enriching. Welcome!

DISTANCE EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Vincennes University Distance Education Program serves a variety of student educational needs throughout the State of Indiana, the United States, and to internationally located students. A variety of associate & bachelor degree programs, general education, and special interest courses are available. Courses are delivered widely by the Internet.

Internet courses are offered with five different term options:

- On a regular semester basis (16, 14, 12, 10 weeks in the fall and spring; 10 weeks in the summer)
- On an 8-week term schedule, beginning five times each year

When a student registers for a class, the Distance Education Office provides the student information applicable to the course, including how to purchase textbooks, instructions on how to access online courses, and key administrative details. This information is conveyed electronically to the student by way of a preferred email address of the student's choosing. The Distance Education Office is available during regular business hours for any additional assistance a student may need.

DISTANCE EDUCATION MISSION STATEMENT AND OBJECTIVES

The mission of the Vincennes University Distance Education Department is to provide quality lifelong educational services to interested individuals located anywhere and at any time to facilitate the achievement of their education goals as they work to improve the quality of their lives and compete economically. These educational opportunities are provided to individuals through degree programs and courses offered via the internet, by use of blended instructional methods and other emerging technologies. Courses and programs are offered in a variety of term options to meet the diverse needs of adult learners. It is the responsibility of Distance Education to connect students with superior instructors as well as provide student and instructor support. These distance education programs meet all values set forth for traditional on-campus programs.

Objectives

The Distance Education Department will:

- increase enrollment
- expand degree offerings
- expand student support services to enhance retention
- improve course quality
- expand faculty support services

Online (Asynchronous and Synchronous)

- Online (Asynchronous and Synchronous): A course administered by online instruction where the student and instructor do not meet in a physical location. The course has ‘asynchronous’ elements in that the student is not required to be online at a specific time of day to complete the course work. The course also has some ‘synchronous’ elements in that the student is required to be online at a specific time of day to complete the course work. Faculty engage students through various methods, such as but not limited to interactive tutorials, group discussions, projects, discussion boards, chat rooms, etc. These methods help ensure that this mode of instruction is consistent in terms of quality, assessment, learning outcomes, requirements, etc. when compared to its face-to-face counterparts. Online courses have the same credit hour requirements, department prefixes, and course numbers and titles as their on-campus counterpart.

ACCREDITATION

Vincennes University is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission. Vincennes University maintains its accreditation with the Higher Learning Commission through the Standard Pathway process. For more information regarding VU's HLC accreditation, contact the Higher Learning Commission at 312-263-0456 or see www.hlcommission.org.

Distance learning courses are developed and conducted by credentialed faculty members with the approval of the appropriate academic departments and divisions.

Under these laws, universities are required to provide information regarding enrollment, financial, retention and graduation rates, student outcomes data, and campus crime statistics to assist all potential and currently enrolled students in making responsible decisions regarding their education. Vincennes University has created this page to aid in locating this information. Links are provided to facilitate access. In some cases, information is mailed directly to the student. This and other information may also be reported at the state and Federal level. Current students can also obtain this information by requesting it from the Dean of Students Office at 812-888-4241. STATE AUTHORIZATION

<http://vinu.edu/web/distance-education/state-authorizations>

The State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (SARA) is an initiative that gives higher education institutions a wider freedom to offer online courses to students outside of the home states of said institutions. This is accomplished via creating a process by which institutions can maintain compliance standards and state approvals more efficiently, with state regulatory agencies from across the country entering into a single reciprocity agreement.

On February 21st, 2014, the state of Indiana was approved by the Midwestern Higher Education Compact (MHEC) to be the first state to join SARA. Vincennes University has been approved by Indiana to participate in the National Council for State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements. NC-SARA is a voluntary, regional approach to state oversight of postsecondary distance education. You can find more information on SARA by visiting the official website here: <http://nc-sara.org/>

As a member of NC-SARA, Vincennes University Distance Education is approved to offer course work to residents of other member states/districts, including: Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Residents from the states of California must be reviewed on an individual basis. If you are a resident of California, please contact the Distance Education office at disted@vinu.edu to enquire about your eligibility to take classes via VU Distance Education.

FINANCIAL AID

<https://www.vinu.edu/web/distance-education/financial-aid1>

Financial aid is available for eligible students taking distance education courses. The eligibility for receiving financial assistance is determined by comparing the cost of attending Vincennes University with the ability of the student and/or parent(s) to contribute toward his/her expenses. Financial aid is viewed as being supplemental to all other resources to meet these costs. The goal of the Financial Aid Office is to meet the evaluated need of all eligible students.

Semester-based Distance Education courses are eligible for full consideration for most types of financial aid. Assuming that eligibility requirements are satisfied, disbursement of financial aid loans to the accounts of students enrolled in only 14-week, 12-week, 10-week, or second 8-week courses occurs a few days before the start of the courses. (Eligibility for federal student loans requires enrollment in at least 6 credits.) Federal Pell grants are disbursed only after the student has started each course.

Continued eligibility for the various financial aid programs will require the following: (1) continued enrollment; (2) satisfactory academic standing and progression toward a degree or eligible certificate; (3) properly completed and timely filed applications; (4) all university accounts due and payable being current; (5) satisfactory employment if previous student worker; (6) remain eligible by the individual program guidelines; (7) sign an affidavit that all federal financial aid funds received will be used for the applicable payment period for educational expenses; (8) sign necessary documents for the receipt of aid awards; (9) not be in default on a Federal Family Education Loan Program loan or a Federal Direct Loan; (10) not owe a refund on a Pell Grant, Perkins Loan, or Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant previously received.

All federal aid that is awarded and disbursed to pay a student's expenses must be earned. A student earns this by staying enrolled and attending classes. Until the student attends no less than 60% of the semester, his/her aid is earned in a direct proportion of the days attended to the number of days in the semester. Once a student attends classes through 60% of the semester, the student is deemed to have earned 100% of the awarded aid.

The only costs that can generally be included in the distance education student's cost of attendance are tuition and fees, room and board, and books and supplies. Travel costs can only be included if they are incurred and documented specifically in fulfilling requirements of a distance education course. A student cannot receive aid from two different schools for the same enrollment period. Military and Vocational Rehabilitation payments may affect your financial aid. Federal aid consists of Pell & SEOG Grants, Subsidized and Unsubsidized Stafford Loans, Parent PLUS Loans, and Perkins Loans.

Applying for Aid:

To complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) log on to www.fafsa.ed.gov. For additional assistance regarding your Financial Aid application and eligibility at Vincennes University, call 800-742-9198 or email financialaidoffice@vinu.edu or swerne@vinu.edu. For additional information about financial aid, go to www.vinu.edu/financialaid and www.studentaid.ed.gov.

Please Note:

Non-receipt of financial aid or non-receipt of financial aid in a timely manner does not excuse the student from the tuition or other financial obligation to VU.

LESSONS, EXAMS, AND OTHER COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Students enrolled in online courses should begin submitting lessons immediately following the start date of classes. Lessons should be submitted in the fashion directed by the instructor. Students should read the course syllabus and course content carefully for instructions on lesson submissions. Students should expect occasional delays during University holidays and closures.

Online classes will contain both synchronous and asynchronous requirements. Students are expected to follow the course schedule and the assigned due dates. Additionally, online instructors will hold synchronous virtual office hours throughout the duration of the course.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Please note that online courses have due dates and are not self-paced. The VU Distance Education Attendance Policy is based on the premise that students will complete all assigned course work by the established due dates. Failure to complete an assignment by the established due date is interpreted as an absence from the class. Any student who misses an assignment will be subject to attendance warnings and classroom concern notices from their instructor. Multiple attendance warnings and classroom concerns may result in administrative withdrawal.

Faculty-Initiated Withdrawal of Students from Class

Students who miss class hours totaling twice the number of credit hours awarded for the course, or the equivalent of two weeks of class instruction, are eligible to be dropped from class. Faculty will be using the "TAPS" program—Tracking Attendance and Performance of Students—to issue warnings for non-attendance and to drop students for non-attendance with the following final grades:

- WN: Withdrawal for non-attendance, Not failing
- WF: Withdrawal for non-attendance, Failing

Only the student may appeal such a drop for non-attendance, and the student has two possible avenues for appeal.

1. The student may appeal directly to the faculty person for readmission to the course and must provide evidence of extenuating circumstances that caused the absences. The faculty person has the option to readmit the student at his/her own discretion.
2. The student may appeal the drop for non-attendance through the Dean of Students Office by completing a Drop Petition Appeal form within five business days from the date of the notification. The Dean of Students will then review the appeal, consult with the faculty member and, potentially, the student and render a decision to grant or deny readmission into the class. If there is extenuating information/evidence unknown to the faculty person or Dean of Students, the student is responsible to provide that information/evidence. The review is conducted by the Dean of Students or a designee.

POLICY FOR WITHDRAWALS, DROPS, AND CREDIT ADJUSTMENTS

All withdrawals from Distance Education courses must be approved and processed by the Distance Education staff. Withdrawals may be initiated by the student, the course instructor, or a University administrative staff member.

All student-initiated drop or withdrawal requests must be in writing by email, fax, U.S. Mail, or hand delivery to the Distance Education Office. Withdrawal schedule and instructions are located at <http://www.vinu.edu/web/distance-education/withdrawal>.

Withdrawal from 16, 14, 12, 10 Week Courses

For all sixteen (16) and fourteen (14) week distance education courses, approved withdrawals with a grade of “W” that are initiated by the student may be made up to and including Friday of the tenth calendar week and Friday of the sixth calendar week for the twelve (12) and ten (10) week of the distance education term.

Withdrawal from 8-week Courses

For all 8-week distance education courses, approved withdrawals with a grade of “W” that are initiated by the student may be made up to and including the Friday of the fifth calendar week of the distance education term.

Withdrawal from Developmental Courses

Students should be very cautious about dropping developmental classes as this can hinder degree progress and financial aid eligibility. A student dropping a developmental course will be placed on academic probation or might be academically disqualified. Class withdrawals from some required courses are not permitted.

Withdrawal from School

To receive honorable dismissal, a student who voluntarily withdraws from the University and who is enrolled in distance education courses must notify the Distance Education Office, as well as the Dean of Students Office. Instructors will be notified when withdrawal procedures are complete.

Withdrawal from Courses by Partnership (IPSE/ICN) Students

Students taking courses at Vincennes University through the Indiana College Network may initiate a withdrawal by providing written notification to their home institution. Withdrawal notification must be made in accordance with the policies and procedures of the student’s home institution. A copy of the notification should also be forwarded to the Distance Education Office at Vincennes University.

Drops for Non-Attendance in Distance Education Courses

As stated above, the VU Distance Education Attendance Policy is based on the premise that students will complete all assigned course work by the established due dates.

16, 14, 12, and 10 week courses - Students who do not participate in course activity by submitting required online course assignments and exams by end of the second week may be dropped by the instructor or the Distance Education Office.

8-week courses - Students who do not participate in course activity by submitting required online course assignments and exams by end of the second week may be dropped by the instructor or the Distance Education Office.

COURSE CHANGE

STUDENT ACCOUNT (MyVU)

At the time of admission, each student is assigned a University Student ID# and a University MyVU student account (MyVU Login Page). The Student ID# and log in information for MyVU is provided to the student's University Preferred Email Address.

IMPORTANT: It's important to update your password the first time you access your student MyVU account. It is also recommended that you change your password on occasion as an additional security measure.

Through your MyVU account, you can do the following:

- view your class schedule (by accessing your MyVU account through the Self Service Banner)
- view/update what personal information the University has on file
- check your financial aid status
- find your midterm and final grades (grade books found on Blackboard are unofficial, you will need to consult MyVU to see your official grades)
- look up your unofficial transcript
- pay University bills online

We strongly recommend students review their course schedule on their MyVU accounts prior to ordering textbooks, in the event of any section adjustments.

If you do not know your MyVU user name or password, or to reactivate your student account contact the VU Management Information Center (MIC) Office at 812-888-4332 or email myvuhelp@vinu.edu.

MyVU is the student information account and not the same as the location of the course content which is the VU Blackboard.

PROCTOR SELECTION & APPROVAL

Distance Education instructors may require that students secure a proctor to oversee the performance of certain assignments and examinations. As soon as students receive their course materials, they should read the course syllabi and course schedule carefully to determine if and when proctors will be required. Students should identify an appropriate proctor, complete the proctor approval form (VDE Proctor Form) and forward it to the instructor as soon as possible. The proctor may not be related to the student, nor live at the same residence.

A proctor maybe selected from the following categories:

- VU Learning Unlimited
- VU LU Coach Site Staff
- VU Campus Site Staff: Library, Assessment Center, or Study Lab
- VU Military Education Site Staff
- Military Personnel: education officer, clergy, commanding officer two ranks above the student

Once approved, the instructor will forward appropriate assignments or exams to the proctor for administering to the student. The proctor and student must follow assignment and exam instructions carefully to assure the integrity of the work.

Instructors have final approval of proctors for their course.

Students who reside in Knox County, Indiana (including students who live on the Vincennes campus) and are taking any online Math class are required to take their exams in the Updike S.E.M. Learning Lab in room 135 of Updike Hall on the Main VU campus. This is a Math Department rule. Their number is: 812-888-5774. They are usually open Mon – Thur from 7:30 a.m. - 7:00 p.m. and Friday from 7:30a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

COURSE TIME LIMITS

Distance education courses are designed to be completed in specific time frames. Semester-based courses are to be completed 16, 14, 12, 10 and 8 weeks in the fall and spring semesters, and 10 and 8 weeks in the summer term.

Students are encouraged to read their course syllabi immediately upon receipt of the course materials to determine the specific schedule of assignments and exams. Courses are structured with regard to when assignments are due and how many assignments can be completed at one time. It is the student's responsibility to read and understand the course requirements and due dates, then to establish a discipline to assure successful completion in the time permitted. Please note that online courses have due dates and are not self-paced.

EXTENSIONS

For 16 week and accelerated 14, 12, 10 and 8-week courses, instructors may choose to grant students an incomplete grade, permitting students another 50% of the original term to complete a course. These arrangements must be made directly with the instructor before the end of the original term. An extension may be requested 2 weeks before the end date of the course. Extensions should not be requested after the course end date. Extensions are only granted for extenuating circumstances such as medical emergencies or deployment. Documentation of the extenuating circumstance is required. Only one extension per course during a semester will be granted. At the completion of the extension, the grade earned will be submitted. If an extension is granted, the student will not be allowed to drop the course during the extended time. Students who are granted extension must show active participation by meeting due dates and goals set by your instructor. Failure to participate during an extension will end the extension and the grade earned will be submitted.

CREDIT BY EXAMINATION

Vincennes University offers students the opportunity to enroll in courses on a credit by examination basis. Students who wish to pursue this option must first contact the Distance Education office to make sure that the course is offered online and that credit by examination is allowed by the academic college. If the course is offered online and credit by examination is allowed by the academic college, then the student must do the following: enroll in the desired course, pay the standard tuition and fees, and advise the instructor and academic advisor of their intent to attempt to earn the credit by comprehensive examination within the first two weeks of the course start date. Students will receive the course syllabus and may purchase the required course materials. Students are required to prepare for a single, comprehensive examination that covers all course content and objectives. The instructor will refer students to the Distance Education Office to arrange for the examination. It is the student's responsibility to study the material required for the course and prepare for a single, comprehensive examination that covers the course. The results of this examination will provide the sole basis for determining whether credit is earned for the course.

Exception: Some courses require skill proficiencies; other courses may not qualify for credit by examination. The maximum time allowed between the enrollment date and the exam date is the regularly scheduled length of the course term. If the student is awarded a passing grade on the exam, then the student has the option to refuse the grade and complete the course for the chance to earn a better grade. The course must be completed within the enrolled semester. The grade earned by completing the course will be the final grade. The exam grade will not be awarded once the student refuses the grade and chooses to complete the course.

EXPERIENCED-BASED LEARNING CREDIT

Vincennes University offers adults the opportunity to earn college credit for significant lifetime learning and experience. Such experience may include lifetime work-experiences, earned certifications, in-service training, reading and personal study, and extensive volunteer work. Students develop a comprehensive portfolio detailing their life experiences and specifically describing the college-level learning derived. Documentation is required. Students register for and complete the Portfolio Development course (ENGL 125) under the supervision of an English faculty member. Once the portfolio is appropriately developed, it is reviewed and evaluated by faculty from various disciplines to determine the award of experiential credit. The university's academic deans are ultimately responsible for the final determination of credit to be granted. The transferability of experiential credit varies among institutions. Students should contact schools directly to determine policies regarding the transfer of experienced-based credit.

STUDENT COMPLAINTS, DISPUTES, AND APPEALS

Information regarding how to register general complaints with Indiana's Commission for Higher Education or the governing body for higher education in other states, districts or territories can be found:

<https://www.vinu.edu/web/distance-education/complaints1>

Appeals by students regarding participation, performance, grades, drops, and other related issues should first be addressed directly to the instructor. Appeals and issues that cannot be resolved with the instructor may be addressed by following the dispute process located at the following website: <https://my.vinu.edu/web/distance-education/dispute-information>

DIVERSE ABILITIES AND ACCOMMODATIONS

The Office of Diverse Abilities and Accommodations reviews requests and determines appropriate accommodations for students with disabilities. Students with psychological, physical, sensory, communicative and/or learning disabilities should seek out this office as soon as possible after admission to VU if they require academic accommodations. The student will be required to provide copies of medical or psychometric evaluations that document the presence of a disability and the impact of the disability on the student's level of functioning. The Office of Diverse Abilities and Accommodations also coordinates the availability of assistive technology at various campus locations to provide accessible classroom materials and equipment. Vincennes University complies with the requirements set forth by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act to assure the rights of individuals with disabilities to fair, non-discriminatory treatment.

The Office of Diverse Abilities and Accommodations is located in the Shake Learning Resource Center. Their phone number is 812-888-4501. Specific procedures for requesting an accommodation for a disability may be found at the Office of Diverse Abilities and Accommodations website at: <https://www.vinu.edu/web/diverse-abilities-and-accommodations/welcome>. Students that will be requesting accommodations should view the Diverse Abilities and Accommodations website for documentation requirements.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

The University expects students to adhere to the principles of truth and honesty in their academic work. Academic dishonesty includes plagiarism, cheating, submitting another person's material as one's own, or doing work for which another person will receive academic credit.

For violations under this section, the professor will provide written notification of the circumstances and punitive actions taken to the Director of Distance Education. Professor's alternatives may include, but are not limited to, recording a failing grade for the assignment or a failing grade for the course. The student shall have the right to appeal the professor's decision according to the appeals process outlined above. The Vincennes University current catalog provides the full policy statements for academic honesty: <http://catalog.vinu.edu/>.
