

Advanced Manufacturing Automation Technology Adjunct Faculty – Vincennes, IN

Vincennes University hires adjunct faculty each semester on an as-needed basis. The College of Technology is accepting applications for an adjunct faculty position to teach degree-required courses and training courses in Advanced Manufacturing Automation Technology. This is a part time non-tenure track position located in Vincennes, IN.

EDUCATION: Minimum of an A.S. degree directly related to Industrial Maintenance.

EXPERIENCE: Minimum of three years work experience directly working with automation technology used in manufacturing. Must be proficient in troubleshooting electrical, mechanical, and fluid power systems.

Direct working experience in the following areas:

- Electrical/Electronic control circuits
- Mechanical Drive Systems
- Fluid Power
- Motor Control System
- 3 Phase Power
- PLC Programming
- Industrial Robot Programming
- Industrial Networking
- Process Control

REASONING SKILLS: Strong problem-solving skills.

INTERPERSONAL SKILLS: Excellent oral & written communication skills. Friendly, outgoing, respectful attitude.

PHYSICAL DEMANDS: Ability to lift 50 pounds, also stand for an hour without a break.

Application Process:

Interested applicants should submit a letter of application and resume including contact information for three references to Human Resources by email at jobs@vinu.edu or mail to Vincennes University, Human Resources, 1002 North First Street, Vincennes, IN 47591.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Interviews may be held concurrently with the advertising period. Please note the selected candidate may be required to submit to a criminal history background check.

Vincennes University is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Employer.