How to Find Articles

You can find articles by using OneVU or you can access one of our many databases geared towards general or specific subjects. A great way to start your research is to go to “Databases A-Z” and choose a general database like “Academic Search Premier”. You can also choose a specialty database, which are sorted by college. You'll find databases for your program under “Social Science, Performing Arts and Communication” located on our Find Articles page. Below is a search example using Academic Search Premier.

Recommended Databases

Academic Search Premier: A great starting point for any type of research. Access to 3,900 full-text peer reviewed journals and 4,600 total full text journals on topics from all academic disciplines.

CQ Researcher Online: Provides up-to-date, unbiased information on issues in the news. Topics include: social trends, criminal justice, international affairs, education, and the environment.

Credo Reference: Full-text articles from nearly 800 reference eBooks on topics including: art, language, psychology, social sciences, biographies, geography, religion, history, and literature.

History Reference Center: Designed for secondary schools, public libraries, junior/community colleges and undergraduate research, this database features full text for thousands of primary source documents and informational texts.

Opposing Viewpoints in Context: Access more than 14,000 pro/con essays, over 5,000 topic overviews, 5 million periodical articles, 6,000 statistical tables, charts, and graphs. Also includes images, podcasts, and court case overviews.

Social Sciences Full Text: Collection provides sources covering a wide array of subjects, including addiction, ethics, public welfare, and urban studies. Covers the latest concepts, theories, and methods from applied and theoretical aspects of the social sciences.
