How to Find Articles

You can find articles by using OneVU or you can access one of our many databases geared towards general or specific subjects. A great way to start your research is to go to "Databases A-Z" and choose a general database like "Academic Search Premier". You can also choose a specialty database, which are sorted by college. You'll find databases for your program under "Humanities Databases" located on our Find Articles page. Below is a search example using Academic Search Premier.

The screenshot shows the EBSCOhost Academic Search Premier search page. The search term 'scott fitzgerald' is entered in the search box. A dropdown menu is open, showing various search fields like 'TX All Text', 'AU Author', 'TI Title', 'SU Subject Terms', etc. The search results are displayed below, showing two results: '1. City Rhythms: The Tempo of S' and '2. "Of Great Gabasidy": Joseph C'. The interface includes navigation links like 'New Search', 'Publications', 'Subject Terms', 'Cited References', and 'More'. There are also links for 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search', and 'Search History'. The results are refined by 'Current Search' and 'Limit To' options.

LIBRARY EXERCISES

Exercise I.

Advanced Searching Using OneVU

On the library home page, go to the OneVU search box at the top of the page.

Click the Advanced Search link located in the lower left-hand corner.

Using the different search options, perform a search that finds peer-reviewed articles that are:

- About “Ansel Adams”
- Were written after 2010
- Are in English

How many search results do you get?

Repeat the search, but this time search for books. How many results do you get?

Exercise II.

Research Databases

Research databases are electronic resources used for finding scholarly journal articles, magazine articles, newspaper articles, and other information that has been published in periodicals. You can skip the OneVU Discovery Tool if you desire to search a specific, familiar resource.

Access the VU Libraries website.

Click the Databases A-Z link.

Select the Academic Search Premier database from the list.

Search for “Teenie Harris” by typing your topic in the first search textbox.

Click the Search button.

How many results did you retrieve? _____

In the sidebar to the left you will see the limiters that are available (HINT: All databases offer limiters to help you manage your search results). Under Limit To, select Scholarly (Peer Reviewed) Journals, and under Source Types, limit your results to Academic Journals.

Use the Publication Date slider bar to limit your results to 2010-2017.

How many results? _____

Limit your results again by selecting Full Text under Limit To. Select one full text article from your search results. Provide the following information about that article:

Title of Article:

Two Subject Terms:

Go back to the VU Libraries website.

Click the Databases A-Z link.

Select the ARTstor database from the list.

Click on Enter ARTstor Digital Library

Type in Walker Evans in the search box and click the Search button. How many results are there?

On the left, under Classifications, click Photographs and under date, limit your search to 1970 CE-1980 CE

How many results are there? _____

Exercise III.

Reliable Sources

Using library resources gives you the benefit of selecting reliable sources for your assignments, unlike using Google to search the Internet. What are some reasons you believe your article is reliable?

(Reasons might include: What is the article's purpose—to present scholarly research, inform, or persuade? Are other credible sources cited? Are the author's credentials mentioned? Is the journal peer-reviewed?)

a. _____

b. _____

c. _____

d. _____
